Supervisor of Elections hopes to inform voters of upcoming third-party mailing and encourage voters to update records

ALACHUA COUNTY, Fla. (June 17, 2019) — Two Washington D.C.-based nonprofits, the Center for Voter Information and the Voter Participation Center, are set to send out letters and voter registration applications to Alachua County residents.

Intended for residents who are not registered to vote, the groups' mailings have previously confused voters, with notices sent based on incorrect or out-of-date information.

Neither the Center for Voter Information nor the Voter Participation Center is affiliated with the Alachua County Supervisor of Elections. The Alachua County Supervisor of Elections does not provide the address information used to conduct the mailing.

Contact information and the link to unsubscribe from the Center for Voter Information and the Voter Participation Center is below:

The Alachua County Supervisor of Elections is the official source for information related to voter registration and elections in Alachua County.

Voters are encouraged to make sure their voter records are updated. This can be done at <https://www.votealachua.com/My-Registration-Status> or by calling 352-374-5252.

There are numerous ways for prospective voters to register to vote:

- Online: Florida residents can register to vote online. The online voter registration portal — found at RegisterToVoteFlorida.gov — is a safe and secure option for voter registration.
- In person: The Alachua County Supervisor of Elections' office, located in Gainesville at 515 N. Main St., Suite 300, is open 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Registrations can also be completed and turned in at any Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles/Tax Collector office or Alachua County Library District branch.
- By mail: Forms are available online at VoteAlachua.com.

Voters who need to update their signatures need to fill out new voter registration applications.

For more information, contact the Alachua County Supervisor of Elections at 352-374-5252.
